

Magnes Matters

Find yourself @ the Magnes

CONVERSATIONS ON ART The Fabric(ation) of Memory

Sunday, February 4, 2:00 PM
2007 Roselyn Yellin Memorial Lecture

This panel discussion explores intergenerational dialogue through the medium of textiles. Moderator: Jane Przybysz, executive director of San Jose Museum of Quilts and Textiles. Panelists include: Magnes REVISIONS artist Amy Berk; Consuelo Underwood, Bay Area textile artist and associate professor of fine arts at San Jose State University; and Beth Dungan, independent curator.

Reception to follow.

$12 non-members; $10 members. RSVP to mchood@magnes.org or 510.549.6950.

REVISIONS Amy Berk: Recoverings Opening February 5, 2007

San Francisco-based artist Amy Berk uses textiles in the Magnes collection as inspiration for her installation that explores the connections between feminism, Jewish culture, minimalism, and the 1960s. Berk uses linens left to her by her grandmother who lived in New York City, home to many of the Minimalists. Berk was born in Brooklyn, received her MFA from San Francisco Art Institute and has written extensively for national art magazines. Berk is represented by Traywick Contemporary and is a co-founder of Stretcher, the on-line magazine of Bay Area contemporary art.

Amy Berk: Recoverings was made possible by a grant from The National Endowment for the Arts, as part of Challenge America: Reaching Every Community program, with matching funds from an anonymous donor.

Donate Now!

Because this is YOUR museum and it impacts YOUR community. YOU MAKE THE MAGNES MATTER. The Magnes experience is impossible to describe-- you MUST come to the Museum and see it for yourself. Enjoy free admission, invitations to exclusive members-only events and much more by becoming a Magnes member today!

Support for the Magnes's educational programming has been provided by Tracy and Dennis Albers, the Aaron and Marie Blackman Foundation, Debbie and Barry Cohn, David B. Gold Foundation, Janet and George King, Milton and Sophie Meyer Fund, The Bernard Osher Jewish Philanthropies Foundation, San Francisco Foundation, Sinai Memorial Chapel - Chevra Kadisha, and the Esther and Mel Wacks Education Fund.

The Magnes is a beneficiary of The Jacques and Esther Reutlinger Foundation, the Jewish Community Federation of the Greater East Bay, and the Jewish Community Federation of San Francisco, Peninsula, Marin and Sonoma Counties, along with generous support from donors around the greater Bay Area who are dedicated to sustaining the operations of the museum.

Judah L. Magnes Museum

2911 Russell Street, Berkeley, CA 94705, 510 549 6950, www.magnes.org, Sun-Wed 11-4 & Th 11-8